

WILMINGTON UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
BASIC COURSE INFORMATION

COURSE TITLE: Romanticism, Modern and Contemporary Art

COURSE NUMBER: ART 202

I. RATIONALE:

This interdisciplinary study examines the history and culture

(music, science, literature, etc.)

2. Gain factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends)
3. Examine and critique works of art through visual analysis.
4. Study the elements and principles of design in the art and monument period.
5. Identify specific works of art and the art movements in which they are found.
6. Analyze the characteristics and study the influences of the major art movements.
7. Recognize art styles and their significant relationships to the social, political and religious conditions of the period which produced them.
8. Practice effective communication skills when discussing themes and art critiques or research paper.

Syllabus is sole property of Wilmington University