WILMINGTON UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY BASIC COURSE INFORMATION

COURSE TITLE: Medical Writing

COURSE NUMBER: COM 6680

I. MAJOR INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS:

GOAL A: Write and ensure consistency and quality of clinical reports and othecahedi

documentation

Learning Outcomes: The student will:

A-1. Perform proofreading

A-2. Apply professional techniques when cireatmedical reports

A-3. Recognize the importance of privacy in medical documentation

GOAL B: Write scientific manuscripts, abstracts adhere to selected medicalest

Learning Outcomes: The student will:

B-1. Employ medical terminology

B-2. Summarize medical data and results in a clear and comaise

GOAL C: Prepare medical presentations and graphics and other technology

Learning Outcomes: The studet will:

- C-1. Apply design fundamentats medical presentations
- C-2. Create visuals from medial data and reports

II. CLASS PARTICIPATION:

Students are expected to attend class and in a positive way. Questions and relevant observations are encouraged and enrich the expertence class.

sagi-puwl2ing, gamil-puww72irpguwel2inag, and suragag wb arag di oomagct-puw student, the surrounding students, and the instructor and constitute inappropriate behavior. Students are ethically obliged to avoid these and similar practices.