COURSE TITLE: Responding to the Survivors of Child Abuse and Survivor Responses

FACULTY MEMBER:

OFFICE HOURS/METHOD OF CONTACT:

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is the third course for child advocacy studies. The purpose of this course is to prepare students to recognize the effects of child maltreatment and apply interventions strategies for children and their families. Multidisciplinary approaches to prevention, advocacy and treatment of child maltreatment survivors will be presented and discussed. The course is designed for students majoring in criminal justice, education, social work, sociology, psychology, nursing, paralegal, or other areas where knowledge of child maltreatment and advocating for children will be necessary. Prerequisite for this course is 425.

II. RATIONALE:

Professionals working in fields of education, nursing, criminal justice and human services routinely interact with children and families. Increasingly, professionals are expected to recognize and to effectively intervene into suspected child abuse and neglect situations. But such intervention requires understanding and critical analysis. This course will assist students to evaluate the critical elements of suspected abuse and neglect and prepare them to be competent practitioners.
